RANGOCAS STABLE $60,000 COLT, GREY LAG, WINNER

Favorite Picks Up Top Weight and Easily Disposes of Others in Stake Race.

By Vincent Treanor.

RACE TRACK, BELMONT PARK, May 31.—Grey Lag, the Rangocas Stable's $60,000 purchase of last year, returned to racing auspiciously by picking up top weight and showing the way through the six furlongs of the Freeport Handicap at Belmont this afternoon. Off none too well he made up ground gradually on the outside under Sande's judicious handling and took command in the final eighth to win going away from Dry Moon. Messines was a easy third. The winner's score was popularly received. He was a stout favorite at even money.

There was quite a difference in the attendance to-day, but this is always the case following a holiday. The first race was a maiden jockey event, with two year olds the competitors. A fine combination, especially when the racing is out of the chute and down the straightaway. They zigzagged and swerved and whapped all the way until at the end the winner turned up to be Vendor, ridden by F. Burley. He "followed through" but the rest didn't. Bantley Pass held on to second in front of the favorite Wreckless. Many at the finish thought Veiled Colleen was third.

Stromboli, despite his years, returned to racing after an absence of two seasons a thoroughly good horse to-day. With Sande up in the hindeth colors Stromboli raced Bridesman into submission and drew away to a three-length lead entering the stretch. Through the final eighth he was ridden out to withstand Fair Gain's belated challenge. The latter was away poorly and made up his ground gradually. Bridesman was a distant third. Carpet Sweeper, the only other starter, was beaten off. The race was run in the fast time of 1:37 4-5.

The Hollis Selling Stakes went to J. Byer's Round Robin under Buxton's vigorous handling from Cimaroon. Superwoman and two others in a hair-raising finish. Superwoman supplied the early pace down the six furlongs of the straightaway followed closely by Round Robin and Knight of the Heather. When the latter third Cimaroon moved up along the inner rail under weak handling. Round Robin proved gamest and won under a drive by a head from Cimaroon while the tiring Superwoman saved third a head back.

'Peggy Cost Me $1,398,316,' Says Millionaire Joyce, $38,000 for Perfumes, &c.

Millionaire's Answer to Alimony Petition Bristles With Charges.

ENGAGEMENT A SCHEME.

Kept Charts of Her Expenditures and a List of the Correspondents.

(Special to The Evening World.)

CHICAGO, May 31.—Bristling with sensational new accusations, reiterating charges of infidelity and charging that his experience with her cost him $1,398,316.33, J. Stanley Joyce, millionaire lumberman, to-day answered his wife, Peggy Joyce's petition for alimony. His answer promised to open up the most sensational divorce trial Chicago has known since the Leslie Carter case.

Joyce's bill contains a barrage of figures on her extravagance in buying jewelry, furs and automobiles worth hundreds of thousands of dollars at his expense. It denies her claim that two previous husbands were millionaires, and declares that they and Peggy were unused to large sums of money.

He charges that Peggy and a "stage aunt," Ida M. Smart by name, whom she associated with in her undertakings during the early breaking of her prosperous days, "conspired together to cause him to become engaged to be married to Peggy Hopkins at Colorado Springs in the fall of 1919. He charges that she was still married to Philip Hopkins at the time.

By an elaborate system of checks Joyce figures that of the $1,398,316.33 that his wife cost him from the time of their meeting in July, 1919, to their estrangement in October, 1920, $79,559.58 went for jewels. Her expenditures for clothes in 1920 alone amounted to $71,999, and her sundry expenditures, including the purchase of three high-priced foreign cars in as many months, her perfume bills and incidentals amounted to almost $38,000.

Joyce ridicules Peggy's claim that she was used to poverty and needed $10,000 a month of his money to live on during the progress of the suit. Here is the way he describes some of her friends in his answer:

GIRL WITH $1,700 HELD UP, BUT LOSES ONLY DRY GOODS

Bandits Grab Wrong Bundle From Inn Cashier, and Two Are Captured.

Three daylight bandits held up a woman cashier at Williamsbridge Road and Pierce Avenue, the Bronx, this afternoon and got away with a few yards of gingham for a dress. That is, one got away with the "loot"; the two others were captured after a five-block chase.

Miss Della McGinn, cashier of the Woodmanston Inn, on Pelham Parkway, was taking $1,700 to the Bronx Borough Bank, White Plains Road and 221st Street, when she was held up. Under one arm was the deposit wrapped in newspaper, under the other was the dry goods.

Benjamin Finkle and Edward Maris witnessed the hold-up from in front of their home and caught Charles Buck, No. 142 West 127th Street, and Patrick H. Smith, No. 132 West 129th Street. The prisoners were taken to the Wakefield Station and held in $15,000 bail each when they pleaded guilty to assault and highway robbery before Magistrate Douglas. They said they had planned the hold-up in Harlem last night.

BERLIN CABINET PLANNING VIRTUALLY TO CONFISCATE 20 PER CENT. OF PROPERTY

Fifteen Paper Marks in Credit to Be Issued Against Every Gold Mark in Assessed Value—Three-fold Increase on Pre-war Rentals for City Real Estate.

BERLIN, May 31.—Seizure by the Government of 20 per cent. of the private wealth of all citizens is planned by the Finance Department to meet the reparations demands of the Allies. The details are concealed in the terms of a bill which is expected to be introduced in the Reichstag by Chancellor Wirth to-morrow.

OSTRICH ONLY BIRD NEAR DOUG'S HOME

"Wouldn't Deny Wonderful News If Stork Were Coming," Says Fairbanks.

LOS ANGELES, May 31.—"The only bird I have seen hovering around here is an ostrich that was given us last Christmas—and that is for sale cheap," Douglas Fairbanks declared to-day in denying published reports that his wife, Mary Pickford Fairbanks, is preparing for a visit from the stork.

"There is absolutely no truth in the report," continued Fairbanks. "If such a wonderful thing were true we would have no reason to deny it."

BOY DIES IN FIRE AS MOTHER, CRAZED BY FRIGHT, FLEES

Child Smothered as Rescuers Save Brother and Sister in Tenement Blaze.

Abandoned by his fright-crazed mother, who saved one of her three children, and overlooked by a volunteer woman rescuer who saved another, three-year-old Thomas Mooney was smothered to death by smoke in a fire in the apartment of his parents, Thomas and Mary Mooney, on the top floor of the five-story tenement at No. 510 East 23d Street, this afternoon. The little boy died while firemen were swarming up ladders on the outside of the building bent upon reaching him.

Mrs. Mooney was in the rear of the flat with Thomas, Catherine, four, and William, eighteen months old, when flames swept out of the front rooms. From what could be gathered, Thomas went into another room and crawled under a bed. Mrs. Mooney picked up Catherine and ran to the street with her screaming.

Mrs. Frances Fahey, living on the third floor, heard Mrs. Mooney scream and saw her pass with the little girl. Knowing that there were other children, Mrs. Fahey ran up to the Mooney flat. The door had slammed shut and the fire was sweeping toward her and Mrs. Fahey had to run for her life with the Mooney baby. In the mean time Mrs. Mooney had given Catherine to the care of a neighbor and was trying to get back to her flat. All the other tenants escaped in a hurry.

As outlined at present the measure will call for a levy of one-fifth the value of all real estate in the country, the sum to be assessed upon the property at its full pre-war worth. The levy will act as a mortgage upon which currency will be issued at the rate of fifteen paper marks to each gold one in value.

It is pointed out that under this plan a landed estate worth 100,000 marks will be valued at 1,500,000 marks, upon which the State will saddle a mortgage of 300,000 marks for reparation purposes. With city real estate the scheme calls for a 300 per cent. increase in pre-war rentals, the proceeds to be used solely for the payment of interest on mortgages made for indemnity purposes.

The most radical feature of the plan is that the State will claim a 20 per cent. participation in the capital invested in all going concerns, industrial, commercial and business enterprises, including banks. The plan provides for progressive liquidation by selling these State reparation mortgages and reparation participation shares abroad as fast as the foreign money markets can absorb them. The impression here is that the Cabinet is in full earnest in its desires to carry out its promises with the Allies and that the present moves would never have been taken otherwise.

But while the government is thus striving to meet its obligations under the treaty trouble is brewing at home. The latest crisis to arise is in Bavaria, from whence comes word that the Premier has notified Berlin that he has been unable to carry out disarmament orders as desired. For two years Bavaria has allowed the volunteers to go undisturbed and now the authorities find themselves virtually prisoners without power to act in disbanding the force. In view of the fact that Germany has been notified that the Ruhr will be occupied on June 1 unless the Bavarians are disarmed, the situation is causing grave concern.

FOLLY FOR FRANCE ALONE TO OCCUPY RUHR, SAYS BRIAND

Would Become a Liability Without Backing of Allies, Premier Declares to Senate.

COLOGNE, 1921, by The Press Publishing Co. PARIS, May 31.—"To tell the people of France that by seizing the Ruhr ourselves we should be sure to be paid what is due us is to deceive them." With these words, delivered in his most convincing tone to the Senate, Premier Briand marched another step forward on his policy of moderation and peace which the opinion of nearly the whole world outside of French Nationalist circles supports. "It is necessary to tell France the truth," M. Briand affirmed. "The treaty makes Germany give a solid guarantee to all the Allies. Together they can do all that is required, but seized by us alone the Ruhr would soon become heavy on our hands."
